What are your rights

Based on the fact that we process your personal data, you have several rights. If you exercise any of the rights listed below, we will inform you about the processing of your request within 30 days from the date of its delivery to us. In justified cases, we can extend the mentioned period to 60 days, which we will inform you about.

Right of access to data

The right of access to personal data includes the right of the data subject to request the operator to issue confirmation that it is processing personal data concerning him, while the data subject has the right to obtain access to this personal data and information about what data about the data subject the operator processes for what purpose, to whom the personal data was provided, whether it was transferred to a third country and how long it will keep it.

Right to update and correction

The right to update and correct personal data includes the right of the data subject to correct their personal data if it is inaccurate or incomplete. The operator is obliged to comply with the request for correction of personal data without unnecessary delay.

Right to erasure (to forget)

The right to erasure (to forget) includes the right of the affected person to submit a request for erasure even if his data is illegally and unlawfully processed. The affected person acknowledges that the right to erasure is not an absolute right. If there is an obligation that prevents erasure, the operator is not obliged to comply with the request of the person concerned. The operator will not grant a request for erasure if the processing is necessary:

- a) to exercise the right to freedom of expression and information,
- b) to fulfill a legal obligation,
- c) to fulfill a task carried out in the public interest,
- d) for reasons of public interest in the field of public health,
